Project description (Arial 11, Justify, Line space – Multiple at 1.2; do not add white lines between paragraphs).

Your application should describe how your submission responds to the scope and criteria requirements of the Challenge (see guidelines document) and the key messages you are addressing.

Your application must also describe what you would do with the prize money should you be one of the three competition winners.

The length of this application form must not exceed one full page (including figures, tables and/or references).

By submitting an entry to the Challenge, you:

- Confirm that the content has been created by you (or you have the appropriate permissions to use content created by others)
- Accept responsibility for the content and any copyright, licencing or other permissions required for public dissemination and use (non-profit) of the material
- Provide permission for ScotCHEM (and partners) to use the material for promotion, education, learning and engagement activities, as determined by ScotCHEM and/or its partners

Please retain this statement in your submission - it does not count toward the one-page limit.
